Mission:

Laren Grey has earned his nickname "The Workhorse" through his fearless dedication to craft and his film set endurance. He strives to provide quality work (television, film, commercials, documentaries, stage) in character roles of interest (drama, historical films, westerns, action, horror, sci fi) through method acting and character development. He brings adaptable screen presence and ability. Laren enjoys collaboration and works well with others and working towards the larger direction of a project. Fearless under the pressure and chaos of a film set. Truly a hard worker and motivating artist.

-Ken Morales, director

I am available for any lengths of time and willing to travel for parts that fit my acting goals. Availability is a key in film work and rarely an issue for me. Hair and beard can be modified for significant roles. I look forward to working with you.
